WHAT IS MINE IS YOURS

Brokers, Scams & Trading Technology

Protect your money, data and trading decisions

Educational notice
This guide is for general education only. It is not financial, investment, legal or tax advice, nor a recommendation to buy or sell any instrument. Forex and leveraged products are high risk; you can lose some or all of your capital. Practise on demo, verify broker specifications and never risk money needed for essentials.

Broker checks

Verify the legal entity, regulator, licence number in the regulator's own register, client-money rules, complaint process and withdrawal terms. A brand name alone is not proof of regulation; groups may use different entities in different countries.

Warning signs

Guaranteed returns, pressure to deposit, secret strategies, fees demanded to unlock withdrawals, fake testimonials, impersonation and remote-access requests are serious red flags. Never share passwords or one-time codes.

Signals and account management

Screenshots do not prove a verified track record. Ask for independently verified performance, drawdown, risk per trade, full history and fees. Past performance does not guarantee future results.

EAs and indicators

An Expert Advisor can automate trading actions on a compatible platform. An indicator analyses or displays data; it does not guarantee a profitable decision. Check compatibility, source code, licence, inputs, trading logic and risk controls.

Software safety

Prefer trusted source code with a clear licence. Avoid unknown executables and cracked software. Scan downloads, keep devices updated, and never disable security protections. Test EAs on demo and inspect logs before live use.

Security checklist

Use unique passwords and two-factor authentication. Download platforms from official sources. Verify web addresses. Keep trading funds separate from everyday spending. If fraud is suspected, stop sending money, preserve records and contact your bank/payment provider.
